

A black and white photograph of Adam Franklin playing a double bass. He is wearing a dark suit jacket over a light-colored shirt and a patterned tie. His left hand is on the neck of the instrument, and his right hand is on the strings. The background is dark and out of focus.

“Adam knows enough about old-style blues to be worth listening to & is irreverent enough to be exciting.
He's got the beat,
you won't be bored.”

Del Rey, USA

“Man! That guitar was singin’!”

Alvin Youngblood Hart, USA.

“With intense and deeply felt delivery,
Adam Franklin plays
his heart out.”

Catfish Keith, USA.

“England's best kept secret!”

Steve James, USA.

"Adam Franklin serves up his blues hot,
tasty and downright satisfying."

Toby Walker, USA

Adam Franklin

www.adamfranklinblues.com

“Like across between Robert Johnson & Joe Strummer!” Two Rivers Festival